ABOUT ME

Hi, hey, hello!

I'm Ebony — a proud mumma to the sweetest little soul, my four-year-old son, Steele. I'm also a hopeless romantic when it comes to storytelling through photography and film — especially weddings, families, and precious little newborns. There's just something magical about capturing love in its rawest, most genuine form. It fills my heart like nothing else.

You can usually find me with a book in one hand and an iced latte in the other, daydreaming about my next creative project or planning the next cuddle session with my boys. I'm lucky enough to share life with Keegan, my partner and biggest supporter, who goes above and beyond for our little family every single day.

A few little things about me:

- I'm 27 years old.
- I've been living with Type 1 Diabetes for 16 years — it's shaped a lot of who I am today.
- I'm a big believer in joy.

I genuinely love making people smile, and I bring that energy into every photo session. Whether you're camera-shy or a natural, I promise to keep things relaxed, lighthearted, and fun — even for those who usually dread being in front of the lens.

Let's create something beautiful together — something honest, emotional, and uniquely you.

WHY CHOOSE ME?

Most clients generally ask the same thing when we first meet... and that is to be able to enjoy their wedding without having to pose all day. So, in case you haven't stalked me yet, candid photography is what I do best'.

It is my mission to capture these moments you want to remember forever, so that you get to live fully in the moment on your special day.

My love for shooting weddings and elopements has helped me build Salt Photography Co by telling all your beautiful love stories and that means we let what happens, happen. I won't ask you to do a thousand cheesy and awkward poses, because the best moments happen naturally.

Once you've had a look at our packages and decided if you'd like to go ahead and book with us, send us an email so we can book in a consultation as I'd love to meet you first.
